Samuel Isman, a child of 10 years, the son of Mrs. H. Isman, narrowly escaped, a horrible death yesterday eve-Samuel has just begun to ride horseback, and yesterday was out for a good jog. He was getting along nicely and going at a lively pace when the spirited young animal he was riding became frightened, and whirling suddenly, threw the child from his place in the saddle. Unfortunately, his foot was caught in the stirrup, and he was dragged, with his head downward, striking against whatever was passed, and his body jolting upon the hard, rough ground. The horse did not slacken speed, but ran even faster. When he had gone about 300 yards the girth of the saddle broke, and Samuel's life was saved. Friends were soon at his side, and gentle hands lifted him from the ground and bore him to a neighboring house, where his wounds and bruises were bathed, and from which later he was taken home. Closer examination revealed the fact that he was not hurt as severely as was at first feared. He will ready to take another ride in a few

CIVIL SERVICE BARS.

REPUBLICANS DILIGENTLY TRYING TO REMOVE THEM,

M'KINLEY BEING MADE TIRED. The Warring Between Republican Factions Annoys Him Greatly-Rumors to the Effect That Mosby

May Succeed Gen. Lee at Habana.

WASHINGTON, D. C., April 16.-(Speial.)-The Republicans are endeavoring by every means in their power to break down the civil-service barriers, so as to appease the voracious appetite of the party for office. There is nothing to be left undone to accomplish this pur-The demand for places on Senators and Representatives is something appalling, and these congressmen are worrying the very life out of McKinley. The Senate Committee on Civil-Service, of which Senator Pritchard is chairman, is just now engaged in making an investigation of the civil-service law, the way it is enforced, and the effect of its enforcement in promoting the public welfare. Senators Elkins and Chilton are on the committee with Pritchard, and the committee is by no means friendly to civil-service.

The alleged purpose of the investigation is not the real one. This is, if pos-sible, to show that the departments were pretty well filled with Democrats by turning out Republicans and old sol-diers, and were then placed under the classified service. Pritchard wishes to have all heads of divisions and beau-reaus who were not examined, but were placed under the civil-service rules, go before a board and be rigidly examined, with a view to establishing their qualifi cations and fitness for the positions they hold. This, they say, will displace near-ly a majority of the heads of divisions in the Treasury and other departments. If this is not done, Pritchard says, "the irritation in Congress will grow to such an extent that there will be danger of the passage of a bill which will greatly modify the civil-service law.

HOUSE PROPOSITION. Brownlow, of Tennessee, introduced in the House a joint resolution for the reinstatement in the civil-service of persons separated therefrom without cause. This resolution provides "that, upon the requisition of a head of a denartment, the commission shall certify partment, the commission shall certify for reinstatement in a grade requiring no higher examination than the one in which he or she was formerly employed, any person who has, through no delinquency or misconduct, been separated from the classified service of the depart-ment." It is believed by many Republican leaders that this resolution will be breach in the civil-service barricade, and others will soon follow, until the offices are filled by Republicans.

The wars between Republican factions from the South are giving the President a great deal of annoyance, and he is becoming weary of listening to the quar-rels. He has decided that he will hear no factional delegations looking for offices for their friends. The Republicans must get together, settle their disputes and present reputable and representative men for appointment before he will act, and nothing will be done until the terms of the incumbents expire, or until after the passage of the tariff bill, except to fill vacancies.

MOSBY TO SUCCEED LEE. There have been rumors current for everal days past that the President would offer the position of Consul-General for Cuba to Colonel John S. Mosby, in suc-cession to General Fitzhugh Lee, but so far the story tacks confirmation. The President is in no hurry to make this appointment. Judge Day, who has been appointed a special commissioner to examine into the Ruiz case, has not yet left Canton for this city. He main here two weeks or more, He will reinto the Ruiz papers, and then go to Habana. When Judge Day concludes his investigations in Cuba he will return here and make his report, and it will be some time after that before any appointment of Consul-General will be made.

The appointment will not be an-nounced before Monday. It is a neck-and-neck race between Colonel Boyd and Mr. Purnell.

Mr. Purnell.

It is practically settled that the District
Recordership will go to North Carolina, but, unfortunately for Dancy, of Salisbury, who hitherto has been accepted as the leading candidate, the President says the appointment ought to go to the Con-gressional district that elects a colored congressman. In that event, it will be ex-Congressman Cheatham (colored), who is well and favorably known to the Presi-dent. The situation, as outlined, created a sensation among the colored politicians here from North Carolina to-day. This view of the matter had never suggested itself, and there was some consternation when Senator Pritchard made the announcement.

The inside talk here is that a change will be made soon in the Collectorship of the Eastern District, without regard to the tenure-of-office law.

GOV. RUSSELL AND THE ATLANTIC AND NORTH CAROLINA ROAD.

The Outlook for Pie-Seekers Very Poor-Delegates to the Southern Insurance Convention Appointed-Personal and General.

RALEIGH, N. C., April 16 .- (Special.)-Last night a train ran over William Manly (colored) in the suburbs of this city, and completely severed his head from his body. He was drunk, and a quart bottle of whiskey was found near his body. He must have been lying down with his neck on the rail. It was a train on the Southern railway which struck him. He had for several years been a volunteer fireman here, and was 26 years old.

Governor Russell to-day accepted the resignation of William T. Dortch as State proxy of the Atlantic and North Carolina railway. He was not enjoined by the court from accepting this resignation, but from appointing a State proxy. He says, however, that if he wishes to appoint one he will do so. The private secretary remarked that only two Democrats had resigned, Mr. Dortch and Adjutant-General Cameron, their resignation having been received January

Dr. R. M. Norment, of Lumberton, was to preside at the meeting of the new directors of that road, which began at noon. He is the new president of the road.

MIGHTY POOR OUTLOOK. Congressman Linney was here to-day to see Governor Russell in regard to a par-don. He says the outlook for offices is "mighty poor," unless the civil-service is modified or abolished, and that the chance of this being done is very slim, indeed. Hand Badly Cut-A Rather Compliented Case, SCOTLAND NECK, N. C., April 16 .-(Special.)-A colored man named Sam. Harris had his hand badly cut at the saw-mill of Savage & Hancock, a few miles from town, this week. He was brought to town and two of his fingers were taken off.

A white man named Mobrey was this week sent to jail. The case was rather a complicated one. In 1895 the man Mobrey went to the house of a farmer named Bell and stayed all night. Next morning he borrowed Bell's overcoat to wear to Hobgood, where he said he was going to take the train. He promised to send the coat back, but never tid it. Bell has kept a watch for him all the time, and this week caught him and brought him before Mayor Perry. The brought him before Mayor Perry. The trial about the coat was postponed for a day or two. Mobrey then took out a warrant against Bell for selling him whiskey without a license. The case went against Mobrey, and then Bell had him arrested for perjury, upon which charge he was bound over to court, and not being able to give bond, he is now in tail.

Exchange for Woman's Work.

The Board of Managers of the Exchange for Woman's Work met at their rooms, 200 east Frankin street, with the president, Mrs. Newton, in the chair. The reports were very encouraging. After the regular business the corresponding secretary read a letter from Mr. Morrison, asking the board to add an exchange for music to their work. The board thought best not to grant the request. After special attention was called to the Easter novelties the meeting adjourned.
